

To recognize Dr. Zimet's significant accomplishments and legacy, the University of Colorado has established an endowed fund to support education within the Division of Clinical Psychology.

Please join the alumni and friends who have already contributed to the Dr. Carl Zimet Fund in Clinical Psychology to recognize Dr. Zimet's significant contributions as a clinician, academician, and psychologist/activist.

Your gift will...

- Support training for future psychologists
- Honor the vital role of clinical psychology in behavioral health and integrated care
- Promote the translation of psychological research into clinical treatment
- Support continuing education for Colorado practitioners

Dr. Carl Zimet Fund in Clinical Psychology

Carl N. Zimet, Ph.D. joined the faculty of the University of Colorado School of Medicine in 1963 as head of the Division of Clinical Psychology. This appointment followed a seven-year faculty position at the Yale School of Medicine. After 44 years as division head at CU, he retired in 2007 as professor emeritus. He continues to serve as a committed member of the clinical faculty and a valued colleague to those who share his passion for clinical psychology.

Dr. Zimet was born in Vienna, Austria and, like Freud, left for England in 1939 as a refugee from Nazi Austria. He eventually came to the United States, served in the U.S. Navy, and completed his B.A. at Cornell University, his Ph.D. at Syracuse University, and a two-year joint postdoctoral fellowship at Stanford University and the Palo Alto V.A. Hospital. It was during these two years that he discovered his fascination with the psychodynamic/ psychoanalytic approach to treatment.

Carl N. Zimet, Ph.D.; and Josette G. Harris, Ph.D., Professor and Head of Psychology, University of Colorado School of Medicine and donor to the Zimet Fund.

During his time on the University of Colorado faculty, he became a nationally recognized leader in psychology and psychotherapy, and influenced hundreds of interns as head of the Division of Clinical Psychology. Dr. Zimet served on the board of directors of the American Psychological Association and was the founding president of the National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology. He also served as president of the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Centers (APPIC), and on several committees of the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH).

Throughout Dr. Zimet's professional career, he maintained a firm dedication to training future psychologists.

Yes, I would like to make a gift to support the Dr. Carl Zimet Fund in Clinical Psychology.
